
Values are means over proteins. The per-protein curve is an in-sample, protein-specific upper bound rather than a held-out generalization estimate.